NOTING THE PACK

PROGRAM ON THE RISE

NC State is definitely a program on the rise, recently posting some of the top marks in the history of the program.

NC State recorded back-to-back nine-win seasons for only the third time in school history (1991-92, 1973-74). In fact, in the 127 years of NC State football, the Wolfpack has reached the nine-win plateau just 12 times, with head coach Dave Doeren accomplishing the feat each of the last two seasons.

Of the 64 teams in the Power-5 conferences, only 12 (18.75%) have had at least nine wins each of the last two seasons. The Wolfpack and Clemson are the only two ACC squads to accomplish the feat.

In terms of conference wins, NC State has racked up 11 over the last two seasons (going 6-2 in 2017 and 5-3 last year). The Pack's 11 ACC wins the last two seasons ties the school record for most in consecutive years, accomplished four times now and for the first time since 1991-92.

NC State's 18 total wins and 11 conference victories over the last two seasons are both second-best in the ACC.

NC State has competed in five straight bowl games - the second-longest bowl streak in school history.

The Wolfpack placed six players on the All-ACC first team. That mark led all ACC schools for 2018, was the second-highest tally in school history and the most for NC State since 1992. NC State became the first team in ACC history to boast two first-team All-ACC wide receivers - as Kelvin Harmon and Jakobi Meyers were both 2018 honorees.

QB COMPETITION

The downside to the fact that the Wolfpack will boast five NFL quarterbacks this season is that very little experience returns at that position for the 2019 season. The good news is that the Wolfpack has a talented roster of signal callers, although the starter may not be announced until the first game.

The only returnee for 2019 with any game experience is RS-sophomore Matthew McKay. McKay saw action in five games last season, completing 7 of 8 pass attempts for 87 yards, while rushing for 36 yards on 13 carries and scoring a touchdown. That experience, combined with a solid spring outing in 2019, definitely gives him the edge heading into fall camp.

The only other contender who was on the 2018 squad is RS-freshman Devin Leary, who sat out last season after a prep career that saw him make the finals of the prestigious Elite 11 competition and win the Gatorade Player of the Year award for the state of New Jersey.

Transfer Bailey Hockman also enrolled in January of 2019. The RS-sophomore started his career at Florida State but has not played collegiately.

Ty Evans is a 2019 early enrollee who also made it to the Elite 11 finals and was the Colorado Gatorade Player of the Year.

TRIPLE DIGITS

One way to quantify the develop of the Wolfpack under Dave Doeren is to look at the numbers the Wolfpack has put up offensively. NC State was one of just two teams in the FBS (Oklahoma) to field a 3,500-yard passer, a 1,000-yard rusher and two 1,000-yard receivers in 2018. The Wolfpack also tallied a school-record number of 100+ yard receiving, 100+ yard rushing and 300+ yard passing games with 25.

Category	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	Totals
Rushing (100)	3	2	7	8	5	5	30
Receiving (100)	3	1	0	8	11	12	35
Passing (300)	1	1	0	4	6	8	20
Totals	7	4	7	20	22	25	85

STARTING EARLY

A record number 19 new players enrolled at NC State in January. Here's a few notes about the early enrollees:

- 17 true freshmen and two transfers.
- Group includes two walk-ons.
- 16 of the 17 true freshmen are North Carolina natives.
- Early enrollees include a walk-on quarterback (Jamie Shaw), a freshman quarterback (Ty Evans) and a transfer quarterback (Bailey Hockman, FSU).
- Hockman is eligible to play in 2019. Transfer Levi Jones (LB, USC) will have to sit out.
- OL Timothy McKay (the younger brother of QB Matthew McKay) was only 16 at the time he enrolled.

IT'S 5 O'CLOCK SOMEWHERE

Wolfpack Nation is known for many things, including selling out venues, supporting NC State athletics with passion and noise, and an antipathy towards 12 p.m. kickoffs. With acres and acres of parking surrounding Carter-Finley Stadium, pregame tailgating is something the Pack fanbase takes pretty seriously.

The Wolfpack's recent success on the field has translated to more televised games, which has in turn meant more of those early kickoffs. WPN's angst in 2018 - when five of the squad's seven home games kicked off before 1 p.m. - caused head coach Dave Doeren to steal a line from Jimmy Buffett at his weekly press conference: "It's 5 o'clock somewhere," he quipped when asked about the early starts.

But Doeren knows that his squad's record in those early kickoffs makes it difficult to take offense. NC State has won 14 straight games with kickoffs of 1 p.m. or earlier - dating back to 2016. The Pack has won its last seven early kicks at Carter-Finley Stadium and also has won its last eight early kicks on the road or at neutral sites.

In fact, the Pack posted a perfect 7-0 record in early kicks' last season. The offense posted 38.9 points a game under the midday sun, winning those seven contests by an average of 23.9 points. In 2017, the Pack was also perfect with an early start time, going 5-0.

NO. 1!

Since 2014, NC State head coach Dave Doeren has honored a member of the Wolfpack squad by giving them the No. 1 jersey. For 2019, graduate defensive end James Smith-Williams will don that special number.

Smith-Williams, who started every game he played during the 2018 season, graduated in December with a degree in business supply chain management and a 3.0+ GPA. He tallied 9.5 tackles for loss and six sacks, while also earning Academic All-ACC honors in 2018. His diligence in the Wolfpack's strength and conditioning program has helped him gain 60 lbs. since his freshman campaign.

The Raleigh native has spent the past two summers working as a paid intern for IBM and that prestigious corporation has already offered him a full-time job whenever his football career is complete. He also serves as vice president of NC State Athletics' Student-Athlete Advisory Council. He recently organized a donation drive for victims of domestic violence.

"Our goal as a program is to help our players chase two dreams: life with football and life without football; and to develop them academically, athletically and socially," said Doeren. "James has grown and excelled in those areas. He has been a tremendous leader for us, has always made great decisions and has done things the right way on and off the field. I'm very proud to see his hard work pay off and look forward to seeing him continue to improve this season."

WR Stephen Louis wore the honored jersey in 2018, two-time All-ACC all-purpose back Jaylen Samuels was honored in 2016 and 2017, and safety Hakim Jones was honored in 2015. Safety Jarvis Byrd, who had come back from three torn ACLs to play his senior campaign, wore No. 1 for the 2014 season.

HOMEGROWN

When Dave Doeren took over as head coach of the Wolfpack in December of 2012, he made a promise that he and his staff would strive to keep the best players from North Carolina in North Carolina. The Wolfpack has done just that under his leadership, as 64 of the 105 players on this media guide roster hail from the home state - 61%

The Wolfpack's 2019 signing class included six of the top 20 players in the state, including two of the top five. No other state school had more than two signees ranked in the top 20.

BACK-TO-BACK-TO-BACK

In 2016, Wolfpack running back Matthew Dayes became the first NC State player since 2002 to go over the 1,000-yard rushing mark. Dayes ran for 1,166 yards that season before being drafted by the Cleveland Browns the next spring.

In 2017, Nyheim Hines converted from receiver to running back and turned in 1,112 rushing yards - marking the first time since 1973-74 that two different Pack backs had rushed for 1,000+ yards in consecutive seasons Willie Burden and Stan Fritts in 1973 and '74.

When Reggie Gallaspy, Jr., rushed for 1,091 yards last season, it marked the first time in school history that a different back had rushed for 1,000+ yards in three consecutive seasons.

NC State is one of only three schools in the Power 5 conferences to boast 1,000-yard individual rushing performances each of the past three seasons

Only three schools in the Power 5 conferences (five in the FBS) have boasted at least one 1,000-yard rusher each of the past two seasons and NC State and Oklahoma are the only schools that have boasted three different 1,000-yard rushers each of those seasons.

DOMINATING THE DRAFT

In the past two seasons, NC State has boasted an ACC-leading 11 NFL draft picks - including two first rounders. That mark is tied for seventh nationally.

Only one other school - Alabama - had more draft picks than NC State in 2018, as a school record seven players were taken. Besides Bradley Chubb going as the fifth overall pick to the Broncos, B.J. Hill (3rd, Giants), Justin Jones (3rd, Chargers), Nyheim Hines (4th, Colts), Kentavious Street (4th, 49ers), Will Richardson (4th, Jaguars) and Jaylen Samuels (5th, Steelers) were drafted.

Garrett Bradbury was a first-round pick in the 2019 NFL draft, going 18th overall to the Vikings. Chubb and Bradbury became the first back-to-back first round picks at NC State since Ted Brown and Jim Ritcher were first-rounders in 1979 and 1980 respectively. The Wolfpack is just one of nine FBS schools to boast a first-rounder in each of the past two drafts.

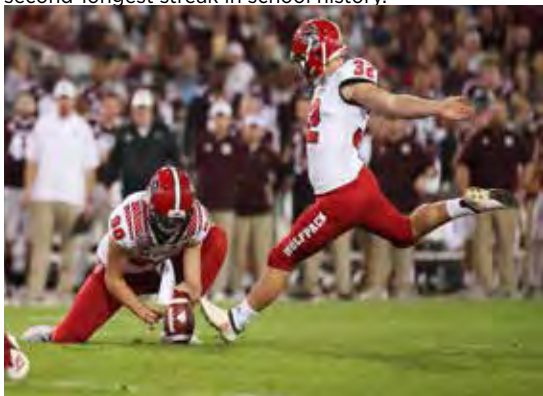

Germaine Pratt (3rd, Bengals), Ryan Finley (4th, Bengals) and Kelvin Harmon (6th, Redskins) were also drafted in April.

WHO'S SPECIAL?

It's been four years since a player other than A.J. Cole, III, punted the football for the Wolfpack or a player other than Tyler Griffiths snapped for a punt or a kick (the last time was 12/26/14 to be exact).

Those two have graduated and moved on, which leaves both jobs open for 2019. The Pack has two punters on the roster: Aussie Mackenzie Morgan, who sat out last season after transferring, and redshirt sophomore Trenton Gill.

The one specialist who is returning for 2019 is a pretty special specialist. As a true freshman, Christopher Dunn set the NC State single-season field goal record in 2018 with 21 kicks, as well as the school mark for points scored with 120. He has connected on his last 15 field goals - the second-longest streak in school history.

Punter A.J. Cole, III (now with the Oakland Raiders) holds for single-season record holder Christopher Dunn.

Garrett Bradbury was a first-round draft pick of the Vikings in 2019

ACADEMIC #STATEMENT

The goal of the Wolfpack football staff is to prepare young men to chase two dreams: life with football and life without it. NC State's recent success on the field and in the draft shows that the first part of that goal is being accomplished, but the numbers show that Pack players are well-prepared for life after their gridiron careers are complete.

Since Dave Doeren was named head coach, 179 members of his squad have earned their undergraduate degrees, with numerous others earning master's and/or graduate certificates. In fact, by the time the Wolfpack took the field for the 2018 TaxSlayer Gator Bowl, 15 of the 18 members of his senior class - plus six juniors in eligibility - had already graduated.

NC State's Graduation Success Rate (GSR) for football has stood at an all-time high (74%) for the past two years and had risen each of the five previous years.

In his six years at the helm of the program, Doeren's players have earned Academic All-ACC honors 28 times, while record numbers have been named to the league's academic honor roll. A school-record five players were named to the National Football Foundation's Hampshire Honor Society for the 2018 season.

Last season, for the first time in school history, the Wolfpack had a representative on the NFF's prestigious National Scholar-Athlete Team. Quarterback Ryan Finley attended the gala in New York City in December as he was honored with other honorees.

Dave Doeren with the Wolfpack's 2019 spring graduates.

FROM FOE TO FRIEND

For just the second time in recent history, the Wolfpack will have a player competing for it that has previously played against it. In 2016, Joe Scelfo started at center for NC State after starting at that same position against the Wolfpack the previous year for South Alabama. This season, graduate transfer wide receiver Tabari Hines will attempt to do the same.

Hines spent his first three years at Wake Forest, where he started 24 games - including two against NC State. In three career contests against the Wolfpack, Hines pulled down 22 catches for 306 yards and four touchdowns, including a pair of 100+ receiving games (the top two receiving games of his career).

In 2018, Hines (who is a cousin of former Wolfpack RB Nyheim Hines) was named ACC Receiver of the Week for his performance against NC State, when he had eight receptions for career-highs of 139 yards and three touchdowns.

After graduating from Wake Forest, Hines transferred to Oregon prior to the 2018 season, but ended up redshirting for the Ducks.

Here's a look at Hines' career vs. NC State

Although the members of the Wolfpack football team would tell you that their teammates are their brothers, six members of the 2019 squad can say that literally. There are three sets of brothers on the 2019 roster: the Dabbs, the Thomases and the McKays.

The Dabbs twins - WR Tyler and RB Will are returning for their redshirt junior campaigns. Thayer Thomas is a redshirt sophomore who was the Pack's fourth-leading receiver last season, while his brother Drake is a linebacker who graduated high school early and enrolled in January.

By the time the 2019 season starts, there will actually be three McKay brothers enrolled at NC State (although just two on the football squad). Matthew is a redshirt sophomore quarterback, Timothy is a true freshman offensive lineman who enrolled in January and their older brother, Travis graduated with a degree in engineering from UMBC this spring and has been accepted to graduate school at NC State.

HALL OF FAMER

The Wolfpack will add to its presence in the NFF College Hall of Fame this year, as former NC State wide receiver Torry Holt has been named to the 2019 class. Holt, the sixth NC State player to be inducted into the Hall of Fame, rewrote the school and ACC record books during his career with the Wolfpack, which spanned from 1995-98. A consensus first-team All-American in 1998, he was a finalist for the Biletnikoff Award and the only receiver in the top 10 of the Heisman Trophy voting that year.

The 1998 ACC Player of the Year and Offensive Player of the Year, Holt remains NC State's all-time leader in career (3,379), single-season (1,604) and single-game (255) receiving yards. He held the Wolfpack record for single-season receptions (88 in 1998) until Jakobi Meyers broke the mark last season, and his 15 catches against Wake Forest in 1998 is still tied for the top mark in school history.

A two-time first-team All-ACC selection at wide receiver, Holt also earned first team all-conference laurels as a punt returner in 1998 and led the Wolfpack to a berth in the MicronPC Bowl. A member of the NC State Athletic Hall of Fame, Holt's No. 81 jersey was retired following his career and the team named its Offensive MVP award in his honor. He was named an ACC Football Legend in 2012.

The St. Louis Rams selected Holt with the sixth overall pick in the 1999 NFL Draft, and he played for the franchise from 1999-2008 before a final season with the Jacksonville Jaguars in 2009. The seven-time Pro Bowl selection led the Rams to a victory in Super Bowl XXXIV following his rookie season and was a member of the team's famous "Greatest Show on Turf." A member of the NFL All-Decade Team for the 2000s, Holt retired from the league with the 10th most receiving yards in history.

Holt and the rest of the 2019 College Football Hall of Fame Class will be officially inducted during the 62nd NFF Annual Awards Dinner on Dec. 10, 2019, at the New York Hilton Midtown and his accomplishments will be forever immortalized at the College Football Hall of Fame in Atlanta. He will be honored at the Wolfpack's home game against Clemson on Nov. 9.

NEW LEADERS

Wolfpack fans may be able to tell the players without a program in 2019, but might struggle a bit with the coaching staff. NC State has four new assistant coaches, two new quality control coaches and three new graduate assistant coaches for 2019.

The Wolfpack lost three coaches on the offensive side of the ball following the 2018 season (one left to be a head coach, one to be an offensive coordinator and another to the NFL). Dave Doeren was able to replace those three with experienced new coaches John Garrison (OL), Todd Goebbel (TE/FB/Special Teams) and Kurt Roper (QB). On defense, Tony Gibson is serving as co-defensive coordinator/safeties coach.

The new QC coaches are Billy Dicken (defense) and Worth Gregory (special teams). Two of the three new GAs aren't new to Wolfpack football, as former WR Gavin Locklear and former OT Alex Barr are now working with the offense, while Larry Scott is a new defensive graduate assistant.

The Wolfpack also has new offensive coordinators for 2019. Des Kitchings, who has been on staff since 2012, and George McDonald, who joined the Pack in 2015, are now co-offensive coordinators.

WORLDWIDE WOLFPACK

Deonte Holden has put quite a few stamps on his passport in 2019.

As a part of NC State's study abroad program, Holden and a group of other NC State students spent three months in Paris last semester as he pursued his dual master's degrees in business management and global luxury management.

Holden has certainly made the most of the sixth year of eligibility he was awarded after he missed an entire season with a LisFranc Fracture (even his injury has a French flair!). The Landover, Md., native enters his final campaign with an undergraduate degree in business marketing, a graduate certificate in brand marketing and textile management, and will earn his two master's degrees in December.

During his time in the City of Lights, Holden was able to take side trips to London, Barcelona, Cannes, Rome and Dubai.

Last year was a breakout season for Holden. He entered 2018 with just five career games played and 29 snaps from scrimmage but played in all 13 games, seeing 410 snaps from scrimmage. He ranked second on the squad with 9.5 tackles for loss and 3.5 sacks.

DUAL-SPORT ATHLETE

Wide receiver Thayer Thomas may have had the busiest spring of any student-athlete at NC State, as he balanced the demands of two sports. The Wolfpack's fourth-leading receiver last season, Thomas played outfielder for the NC State baseball team as well, getting four starts and seeing action in 14 games.

Thomas spent January and February going through football workouts in the morning, followed by class and then baseball drills as he balanced his number of NCAA-limited hours (20 per week).

The rising RS-sophomore batted .222 with four hits and a .500 slugging percentage. His best game of the season came on March 9 vs. Pittsburgh when we went 2-for-2 with a double and home run, driving in a pair of runs while scoring two of his own. As a fielder, he tallied eight putouts with a 1.000 fielding percentage.

Thomas was drafted in the 33rd round of the MLB draft by the Boston Red Sox in 2019.

HOLDING ON

One hallmark of a Dave Doeren-coached team been the ability to hang on to the football. Five of the six top marks in school history for fewest turnovers have come under Doeren, including a record low of 13 miscues in 2017 and 2015.

NATIONAL HONORS

A Wolfpack player has brought home one of college football's major national awards each of the past two seasons. Bradley Chubb was the recipient of the Bronko Nagurski Trophy (nation's top defensive player) and the Ted Hendricks Award (top defensive end) in 2017, while Garrett Bradbury won the 2018 Rimington Trophy (top center).

Only three other schools can boast more than one national award winner in the past two seasons: Alabama, Oklahoma and Georgia.

Garrett Bradbury won the Rimington Trophy - given to the nation's best center - in 2018, while Bradley Chubb was the winner of the Nagurski Trophy and the Hendricks Award in 2017. Both were first-round draft picks.

OFFENSIVE OPPORTUNITIES

To say there will be competition at many positions on offense is a bit of an understatement for NC State heading into the 2019 season. Only four starters return on that side of the ball: TE Dylan Autenrieth, WR Emeka Emezie, OG Joshua Fedd-Jackson and OT Justin Witt.

The Wolfpack must replace its starting quarterback (Ryan Finley, 3,928 passing yards in 2018), its top two receivers (Jakobi Meyers and Kelvin Harmon combined for 173 catches for 2,233 yards), and its top running back (Reggie Gallaspy, Jr. rushed for 1,091 yds. and a school-record 18 TDs). NC State and Oklahoma were the only teams in the FBS to field a

WE ARE #QBU!!

With five quarterbacks on NFL rosters in 2019, there can be little dispute that NC State sits on top when it comes to putting quarterbacks in the National Football League.

In April, Ryan Finley became the latest NC State graduate to be drafted when he went in the fourth round to the Cincinnati Bengals. Finley joins Philip Rivers (LA Chargers), Russell Wilson (Seattle Seahawks), Mike Glennon (Oakland Raiders) and Jacoby Brissett (Indianapolis Colts) as QBU alums in the NFL. Those five Pack alums will collectively make $53.5 million in 2019.

No other school has as many quarterbacks in the NFL and no other ACC school has more than two. NC State will have more signal callers on 2019 NFL rosters than the other league schools in the state combined! (Duke 1, UNC 1, Wake Forest 1).

In 2017, NC State became only the fourth school in history to boast four NFL starting quarterbacks during the same season. For four weeks, a quartet of Wolfpack alums were the starting signal callers for their respective teams: Mike Glennon (Chicago Bears), Philip Rivers (Los Angeles Chargers), Russell Wilson (Seattle Seahawks) and Jacoby Brissett (Indianapolis Colts).

The Wolfpack joined Miami (1993 with Craig Erickson, Jim Kelly, Bernie Kosar and Vinny Testaverde), Michigan (2004 with Tom Brady, Brian Griese, Chad Henne and John Navarre) and USC (2009 with Matt Leinart, Matt Cassell, Carson Palmer and Mark Sanchez) as the only school ever to have four alums starting at QB in the same NFL season.

THE SWIMMER FOOTBALLER KAYAKER PLUMBER PUNTER FROM DOWN UNDER

Since he was a little boy, Perth, Australia native MacKenzie Morgan wanted one thing: to play footy (aka Australian Rules Football). After several years of competitive swimming, he switched all his efforts over to being a footballer, making the competitive State team when he was 14. Right before his draft year, after making a second State team, he injured his knee and had to have reconstructive surgery. The next year, he injured his other knee and knew he had to give up the game he loved.

For the next three and a half years, he trained to become a plumber and started paddling with a sprint kayak team. In 2017, he made the Australian National Team for Ocean Ski Paddling.

Right about then is when he decided to ... give it up, enroll at university in Melbourne (almost 2,000 miles away) and begin training at ProKick Australia - a program that has sent numerous punters - including the past five Ray Guy Award winners - to U.S. universities. He learned to kick traditional spirals instead of a rugby kick.

A few months later, he arrived on NC State's campus, site unseen, to become the understudy to returning fourth-year starting punter A.J. Cole, III. It took a while to acclimate to his new home (Raleigh is 13 hours behind Perth, so settling on a communication schedule with his family took a while), but now Morgan is poised to battle for the Wolfpack's starting punter spot.

3,500-yard passer, a 1,000-yard rusher and two 1,000-yard receivers in 2018.

In addition, the Wolfpack lost three multiple-year starters on the offensive line.

Here's a look at the percentage of what's returning and lost in all the statistical categories:

Category	Returning	2018 Totals	Pct. Returning
Rushing	598 yds.	1,858 yds.	32%
Passing	143 yds.	4,071 yds.	3.5%
Receiving	1,620 yds.	4,071 yds.	40%
Punt Returns	140 yds.	140 yds.	100%
Kick Returns	37 yds.	411 yds.	9%
Interceptions	8 INTs	10 INTs	80%
Scoring	224 pts	440 pts.	51%
Sacks	25 sks.	35 sks.	71%
Tackles	583	827	70%

REAL WORLD WEDNESDAYS

One way that Dave Doeren and his staff has helped the Wolfpack prepare for a future with and without football has been Real World Wednesdays.

For the past four years, in Wednesday team meetings throughout the offseason, speakers have come in to present a variety of topics, including domestic violence, dealing with law enforcement, drug abuse, proper dress attire, interview skills, dining etiquette, agents and runners, and money management

Former athletes from a variety of sports have come back to tell about their experiences as well.

NO SACKS

A key to the Wolfpack's offensive prowess over the past several years has been the offensive line. Not only has the line paved the way for a 1,000-yard rusher and a 3,000-yard passer each of the past three years, they have turned in three of the top marks in school history for sacks allowed.

In the Wolfpack's last 16 ACC games, the o-line has allowed just 10 sacks. With just 11 sacks allowed in 2018 - tied as the second-best mark in school history - NC State ranked fifth in the FBS. In terms of sacks allowed,

Two starters and a frequent sub return on the offensive line for 2019 under new position coach John Garrison: OG Josh Fedd-Jackson and OT Justin Witt were full-time starters in 2018, while C/OG Joe Sculthorpe was the sixth-man in the rotation, seeing action in 572 snaps and starting two games.

VICTORY DAY

Almost two weeks into 2018 fall camp, the Wolfpack football squad took a break from the Xs and Os to remember that football is not the only thing expected in the #1Pack1Goal culture.

The team welcomed 35 participants - ranging in age from 2-25 - from GiGi's Playhouse in Raleigh, a Down Syndrome achievement center, to the Murphy Center, where they were outfitted in jerseys and eye black. From there, each visitor was led on a tour of the building, then down to the tunnel that leads to the south endzone. Each visitor's name was announced, then as the band played, they ran out on the field to the cheers of the players, cheerleaders and their families.

The kids went through drills with the team, and then each one was able to score a touchdown. The celebrations were varied and awesome, and after the event many members of the Wolfpack squad asked when they would be able to host the event again (another Victory Day is tentatively planned for August of 2019).

Victory Day was founded in 2010 by Aaron Segedi, a seventh-grade science teacher and football coach, to help teach his students "game-winning plays and lessons they will need to embody and embrace both on and off the football field," while at the same time giving cognitively and physically impaired children an opportunity for their "moment in the sun."

THE COACHING STAFF

HEAD COACH DAVE DOEREN

CHASE TWO DREAMS

Dave Doeren says that his main goal as a head coach is to make sure that the young men who play for him at NC State are well prepared to chase two dreams: life with football and life without football.

As he approaches his seventh season leading the Wolfpack program, the numbers show that he is accomplishing that goal.

In the past two seasons, 11 of his players have been drafted by the NFL - including an ACC-best seven in 2017 - the sixth-highest total nationally.

And Doeren's players aren't just prepared for the NFL. By the time the Wolfpack took the field for the 2018 TaxSlayer Gator Bowl, 15 of the 18 members of last year's senior class, plus six juniors, had already earned their NC State degrees.

During his tenure, 179 members of his team have graduated and NC State's graduation success rate for football is at an all-time high (74%) and has risen each of the past four years. The Wolfpack has boasted 23 Academic All-ACC performers under his guidance and last year had a player named to the prestigious NFF National Scholar-Athlete Team.

With nine victories, the 2018 Wolfpack was one of just six teams in the 126-year history of NC State football to post nine or more regular season wins. It marked the first time since 1991-92 that NC State had posted back-to-back nine-win seasons and was only the third time in school history that has been accomplished.

His teams have qualified for five consecutive bowl games - the second-longest bowl streak in school history - and he is only the second coach in school history to take teams to five straight postseason bowls. Doeren, a candidate for several coach of the year honors in 2017, has now coached bowl eligible teams in 13 of his 16 years in Division 1.

One of his players has won one of college football's national awards each of the past two seasons. In 2017, defensive end Bradley Chubb won the Bronko Nagurski Trophy, which honors the top defender in college football, as well as the Ted Hendricks Award for the top DE. This past season, Garrett Bradbury was the recipient of the Dave Rimington Trophy - given to nation's top center.

The Wolfpack boasted an ACC-best six first-team all-conference performers in 2018 and became the first team in school history to place two wide receivers on the first team.

His 2017 squad posted nine wins for the season, including a 6-2 mark in the ACC - the most in 23 years. The squad finished the year with a resounding win in the Hyundai Sun Bowl.

In 2016, while facing a daunting schedule, his squad won three of its last four games, including a win at rival UNC and an Independence Bowl victory over SEC opponent Vanderbilt. Four of the squad's losses in 2016, including two to ranked teams, were by seven points or less.

The Doeren Family: Luke, Connor, Sarah, Dave, Jacob

In 2015, Doeren took one of the nation's youngest teams and went to battle against three teams that ended the regular season ranked in the top 10. NC State won four road games in 2015, more than any Wolfpack squad since 2002. No other State team has turned in more road victories since 1957. The team posted numbers on offense and special teams that were among the top marks in school history.

In 2014, his second year as the head coach at NC State, his team was the second-most improved in the Power 5 conferences. The Wolfpack more than doubled its win total from the previous season, earned a bowl victory and posted its highest team GPA in program history.

The 2014 Wolfpack squad was only the second in school history to score 40 or more points in five regular season games and posted its best rushing average since 1992. Despite the tough league schedule in 2015, the team posted four 40+ point games and an almost identical rushing output.

Doeren also believes that a championship mindset involves service and has built a program that prides itself in giving back to the community. Members of his teams have turned in over 6,000 collective hours of community service since he took over as head coach. His team has won the NC State Athletics Community Service Award twice.

He asks each of his position coaches to choose a service opportunity for his players each year. His players have embraced that commitment to service and now many volunteer individually for various ministries and outreaches.

Doeren puts his money and his time where his mouth is. Not only does he set a high standard for his team when it comes to community service, but he holds himself to that standard. He and his wife, Sara, have raised money and brought awareness to special needs education in Wake County since coming to NC State.

Another way that Doeren has established a culture that develops the person is by instituting "Real World Wednesdays." Every week from January until the season starts, a different speaker comes in to speak to the team about his or her experiences or to help teach real life lessons. Speakers have included former players from the NFL, the business world and other individuals who have shared their life experiences.

Doeren has provided practical guidance to his players that will help them in the professional world. They learned about proper dress attire for interviews and business and learned how to tie a tie. They have participated in etiquette dinners and have met with leaders from the financial world who taught them about money management.

He believes that giving his athletes all the tools and knowledge they need to be great leaders is essential to their success, on and off the field. He knows that it takes strong leaders to develop strong leaders, so the training starts with himself and the coaching staff. He uses examples from other programs, university resources and outside speakers to help train his staff.

* - Team competed in Orange Bowl after Doeren was named head coach at NC State

He came to NC State after leading the program at Northern Illinois to its most successful two years in program history. His first Husky squad won the school's first Mid-American Conference Championship since 1983 and tied the school record with 11 wins. His second version repeated as league champions and set a new school record by posting 12 victories for the season and earned a trip to the Orange Bowl - the first BCS berth ever for a MAC school. Doeren was a finalist for several national coach of the year awards following the 2012 campaign.

Under Doeren's leadership, NIU boasted the nation's longest conference winning streak with 17 straight wins versus MAC opponents. The Huskies never lost a home game during his tenure in DeKalb, winning a dozen home contests in his two seasons to extend the nation's longest home winning streak to 21 games.

Prior to his stint in DeKalb, Doeren spent five seasons in the Big Ten at Wisconsin, where he served as defensive coordinator and linebackers coach. During Doeren's time in Madison, the Badgers posted a 49-15 overall mark and played in the Champs Sports Bowl twice, the Outback Bowl, the Capital One Bowl and the Rose Bowl.

For his first two seasons in Madison, he served as co-defensive coordinator/recruiting coordinator/linebackers coach and in 2008, was named the primary defensive coordinator.

Doeren arrived at Wisconsin after four seasons (2002-05) at the University of Kansas, where he served as linebackers coach and recruiting coordinator for three seasons before being promoted to co-defensive coordinator under head coach Mark Mangino.

During Doeren's time at Kansas, the Jayhawks ended a seven-year bowl drought, earning bids to the 2003 Tangerine Bowl and the 2005 Ft. Worth Bowl. The opponent in that first bowl appearance was a Philip Rivers-led NC State team.

In 2000 and 2001, Doeren coached the secondary at NCAA Division I-AA (now Football Championship Subdivision) powerhouse Montana, also serving as the Grizzlies' recruiting coordinator for one year. Montana advanced to the I-AA national championship game in 2000, losing by two points, but returned to win the national title the following season. RETIRED / HONORED JERSEYS

ROMAN GABRIEL (QB)

At NC State: A two-time All-American, Roman Gabriel starred at quarterback for NC State in the early 1960s and finished his career holding virtually every Wolfpack passing record. An academic All-American, Gabriel saw his jersey retired and presented to him by Governor Terry Sanford on Jan. 20, 1962 at halftime of an NC State-Maryland basketball game in Reynolds Coliseum. A first-round draft pick by the Los Angeles Rams, he went on to a distinguished professional career.

As a Professional: Gabriel played 15 seasons in the NFL, splitting time with the Los Angeles Rams (1962-72) and the Philadelphia Eagles (1973-77). He was named the NFL's Most Valuable Player in 1969 and earned Pro Bowl spots in 1967, 1968, 1969 and 1970. He was the MVP of the 1970 Pro Bowl. He ranked as the Rams' all-time passing leader with 22,223 yards and 154 touchdowns (1,705 com./3,313 att.) and threw for 7,221 yards and 45 touchdowns (661 com./1,185 att.) with the Eagles. In 1973, he led the NFL with 3,219 yards and 23 touchdown passes. He still holds the Rams' career records for touchdown passes (154) and passes attempted (3,313), and ranks third in passing yards (22,223), and passes completed (1,705). Gabriel was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1989.

JIM RITCHER (C)

At NC State: Jim Ritcher is one of eight players in the history of the Atlantic Coast Conference players to win the Outland Trophy, awarded annually to the nation's premier lineman. A two-time consensus All-American, Ritcher won the award as a Wolfpack senior in 1979, when he literally cleared the way for NC State to win the ACC Championship. Still an active member of the Wolfpack family, Ritcher, whose sons John and Harrison both played for NC State, thrived in the NFL for 16 years, playing in four Super Bowls with the Buffalo Bills. Ritcher's No. 51 was retired on Feb. 8, 1987. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1998.

As a Professional: A first-round draft choice in 1980, Ritcher went on to play 16 seasons in the NFL, splitting time with the Buffalo Bills (1980-93) and the Atlanta Falcons (1994-95). An All-Pro choice in 1986, 1988, and 1990, Ritcher played in the 1992 and 1993 Pro Bowls. He also played in four Super Bowls with Buffalo and played in more games than any other Buffalo Bill (225). He was inducted into the Buffalo Hall of Fame in 2005 and was the recipient of the Gerald R. Ford Legends Award in 2009.

He was also the first three-time All-ACC player in league history, earning accolades all three years that he lettered. As a junior, he led the voting for All-ACC lineman and after his senior campaign, participated in four college all-star games. Byrd, who passed away in July of 2010, was inducted into the National Football Foundation's Hall of Fame in December of that year.

NATIONAL FOOTBALL FOUNDATION NATIONAL SCHOLAR-ATHLETE TEAM/ WILLIAM CAMPBELL TROPHY FINALIST

In 2018, Ryan Finley became NC State's first player to be named to the prestigious National Football Foundation's National Scholar-Athlete Team. He was a finalist for the William V. Campbell Trophy®, which recognizes the country's top student-athlete based on academic success, football performance and exemplary community leadership.

As a finalist, Finley received an $18,000 postgraduate scholarship as a member of the class and was honored at the 61st NFF Annual Awards Dinner in New York City.

Finley was the only player in the FBS who had already earned a master's degree heading into the season and he had also earned a second postgraduate degree and was working towards a third. He was named to the Academic All-ACC team three times, was a two-time Academic All-District performer and was also named to the NFF's Hampshire Honor Society.

The team captain finished his career ranked second in school history and third in ACC history with 10,505 career passing yards and was a first-team All-ACC performer.

He was selected in the fourth round of the 2019 NFL Draft by the Cincinnati Bengals.

Money

IN RALEIGH AND AROUND THE WORLD

It all happens in one of the best cities in America. A top spot for job-seekers and tech professionals, Raleigh is nationally recognized as a leading urban center:

- No. 2 easiest city to find a job (Forbes, 2015)
- No. 2 hot spot for tech jobs (Forbes, 2016)
- No. 3 best city for young professionals (Forbes, 2016)
- No. 13 best place to live (U.S. News & World Report, 2018)
- Best big city in the Southeast (Time, 2016)
- Selected as a Google Fiber expansion city

With Durham and Chapel Hill, Raleigh anchors the Research Triangle, a national hotspot for high-tech enterprise. The top companies in the region — including IBM, Cisco Systems, SAS Institute, Biogen Idec and GlaxoSmithKline — are among the country's best employers. They also lead the way in hiring new NC State graduates.

More than 125 years after its creation, NC State continues to make its founding purpose a reality. Every day, our career-ready graduates and world-leading faculty make the fruits of learning and discovery available to people across the state, throughout the nation and around the world.

CENTENNIAL CAMPUS

- > A public-private research campus where 70+ corporate, government and nonprofit partners work alongside 70+ NC State research and academic units
- > Home to the College of Engineering, the College of Textiles, the College of Veterinary Medicine and the Institute for Emerging Issues, a think tank focused on tackling big issues that affect North Carolina's prosperity
- > Office of Research Commercialization: Helping faculty and entrepreneurs commercialize discoveries made at NC State
- > The Incubator @ Centennial Campus: Supporting high-tech startups by facilitating unparalleled access to world-leading researchers
- > James B. Hunt Jr. Library: Winner of the prestigious Stanford Prize for Innovation in Research Libraries, and one of the most technologically advanced learning and collaboration spaces in the world

HUNT LIBRARY

The bold design of the Hunt Library is a visual statement of its bold purpose: to be a place not of the past but of the future, a place where our students, faculty, and partners can gather to research, learn, experiment, collaborate, and strengthen NC State's long tradition of leading transformative change.

The Hunt Library and the adjacent parking deck, campus infrastructure, and stream restoration were constructed with $115.2 million in state appropriations, plus donor support. The state-funded cost for the building itself was $93.75 million.

The robot-driven bookBot automated book delivery system holds up to 2 million volumes in 1/9 the space of conventional shelving, enabling the library to provide more space for learning and collaboration. The bookBot is 50 feet wide by 160 feet long by 50 feet tall and is excavated 20 feet below the first floor.

UNIVERSITY CHANCELLOR

DR. RANDY WOODSON

Dr. Randy Woodson became North Carolina State University's 14th chancellor in April 2010. Woodson leads the largest university in North Carolina, with more than 34,000 students and a $1.5 billion budget. Under his leadership, the university created and implemented The Pathway to the Future strategic plan that has elevated NC State's recognition among the nation's top public research universities.

NC State has become a lead university for two NSF Engineering Research Centers, one Manufacturing USA institute and partner on six others, and expanded to more than 75 industry and government partnerships on its nationally recognized Centennial Campus. NC State has also garnered national and international recognition for its faculty and student scholarship.

NC State launched the Think and Do the Extraordinary Campaign to raise $1.6 billion for scholarships, research, programs and facilities, propelling the university to even greater heights.

Leading by example to tackle the world's grand challenges, Woodson also chairs the APLU Commission of Global Food Security and serves on the US Council of Competitiveness Executive Committee.

A nationally recognized scholar and academic leader, Chancellor Woodson came to NC State having most recently served as provost and executive vice chancellor for academic affairs at Purdue University. An internationally-renowned plant molecular biologist specializing in reproductive processes in agricultural crops, he earned his undergraduate degree in horticulture from the University of Arkansas and his M.S. and Ph.D. degrees in plant physiology from Cornell University.

Under his leadership, NC State has become a pre-eminent research enterprise known for solving real-world challenges – a true Think and Do university. Woodson's strategic vision has enabled the university to advance in areas of student success, innovative research, and collaborative partnerships. This has resulted in students ready to solve real-world challenges, public-private partnerships that transform ideas into solutions, and a creative, engaging center of learning and exploration for all.

True to its land-grant heritage, NC State creates economic, societal and intellectual prosperity for the people of North Carolina and the country – with increasing momentum under Woodson's direction.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

BOO CORRIGAN

Boo Corrigan was selected by Chancellor Randy Woodson as NC State Director of Athletics on January 29, 2019 and began his tenure in Raleigh on April 30, 2019.

Corrigan arrived at NC State after eight years as director of athletics at West Point. Under his leadership, Army excelled in competition but also surpassed ambitious fundraising goals, upgraded several facilities, added three varsity sports and created a new brand identity, all while cadet-athletes raised the bar academically. He was named a 2017 Athletic Director of the Year by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics.

At NC State, Corrigan leads a program that includes 23 teams, revenue of about $86 million and more than 200 full-time employees.

"I am honored to be selected by Chancellor Woodson to lead NC State Athletics, and my family and I are thrilled to be part of the Wolfpack," said Corrigan. "NC State is a special institution with a long, proud athletic history and an incredible fan base. I'm excited to work with the university's outstanding coaches, talented student-athletes and dedicated staff to build on the strong foundation developed over the last several years and look forward to moving NC State to even higher levels in all aspects of the student-athlete experience."

Corrigan presided over one of the most successful eras in Army's history, setting milestones and records in competition and in the classroom. He oversaw a program that claimed 20 Patriot League regular season or tournament championships and that sent 14 teams to the NCAA postseason. A total of 80 cadets earned a major award from their conference during his tenure.

Meanwhile, Army boasted 16 Academic All-Americans, including eight first-team selections. Since the start of the 2011-12 season, Army had nine Patriot League Scholar-Athletes of the Year.

Corrigan oversaw an unprecedented increase in athletic fundraising during his time at West Point. Through his guidance the Army A Club experienced a 30 percent increase in membership while increasing the total money raised annually by 200 percent from $2.5 million to approximately $7.5 million. Corrigan also led significant growth of the Athletic Department's endowments establishing 16 new funds, more than doubling the number of endowments, and growing the department's total endowment funds by more than $18 million in his tenure. In addition, Corrigan raised more than $35 million in support of new and renovated facilities.

Throughout his career, Corrigan has placed a consistent emphasis on student-athlete wellness, prioritizing mental health and social-media training.

Corrigan is no stranger to the Atlantic Coast Conference. Before joining Army, Corrigan worked for three years in the athletic department at Duke, serving as senior associate athletic director for external affairs. He also served as assistant director of marketing at Florida State University from 1992 to 1996.

Corrigan also served five years as associate athletic director for marketing at the University of Notre Dame and three years as associate athletic director for marketing at the U.S. Naval Academy.

Corrigan spent much of his youth in Charlottesville while his father, Gene, served as Virginia's athletic director from 1971-81. Gene Corrigan was later athletics director at Notre Dame and commissioner of the ACC.

Corrigan is married to the former Kristen Aceto, a field hockey and lacrosse player at the University of Virginia, who also earned a master's degree from the school. The couple have three children, Finley (17), Tre (15) and Brian (14).

Corrigan received his bachelor's degree in economics from the University of Notre Dame in 1990 and earned a master's degree in education from Virginia Commonwealth University in 2013.

CARTER-FINLEY STADIUM

One of the landmarks of North Carolina's capital city, Carter-Finley Stadium has gained a national reputation as being one of the toughest places to play. The home of the Wolfpack, which celebrated its 50th birthday in 2016, boasts 57,600 permanent seats and is surrounded by acres of convenient parking.

The playing surface at Carter-Finley Stadium was reconstructed in 2009. Named for Wolfpack alumnus Wayne T. Day in 2002, it is built to USGA specifications for a golf green.

The south end zone is the home of the 103,254 square-foot Murphy Center, which is the football team's home for training and preparation.

NC State practices just a stone's throw away at the Wolfpack Practice Complex and the mammoth Close-King Indoor Practice Facility. The outdoor complex covers seven acres and boasts three full fields, a training room, restrooms and a video/coaching tower. The indoor facility boasts a full, 120-yard football field and roof height sufficient for kicking game, with suspended goal posts, additional training and conditioning space beyond both end zones

The A.E. Finley Fieldhouse in the north end zone houses two spacious, state-of-the-art locker rooms that can be divided into smaller locker rooms when NC State plays host to high school championship games. There are also halftime locker room areas for the cheerleaders, the dance team, game referees and coaches.

CARTER-FINLEY FIRSTS

WAYNE T. DAY FAMILY FIELD

The playing surface at Wayne T. Day Family Field is built to USGA specifications for a golf green. The USGA specification has an elaborate drainage system and a 10" rootzone mix that is 90% sand and 10% peat. The field has Tiftway 419 hybrid bermudagrass from Sandhills turf farm in North Carolina. The irrigation system consists of 6 "big gun" sprinklers that spray over 200 gallons per minute. The water source is well water that is contained in tanks.

They contributed several hundred thousand dollars to fundraising for completion of the stadium.

Finley was also a strong supporter of the athletics program at NC State. He kept an active interest in supporting the college, and even donated a motel on Western Boulevard to the Wolfpack Club as an athletics dormitory.

WENDELL H. MURPHY CENTER

The 103,254-square-foot Wendell H. Murphy Center houses every aspect of Wolfpack football, from sports medicine, to equipment, to strength training, to academics. As functional as it is beautiful, the Murphy Center is definitely the Wolfpack's den.

Known as "The Murph" to the Wolfpack players, the Murphy Center is among the largest operations facilities in the country devoted solely to football. Visitors enter the building through Gant Plaza, where the 28' "Wolfpack Turf" statue and fountain stand proudly.

Visitors to the Murphy Center can experience the rich heritage of Wolfpack Football in the Finley Hall of Champions. This multimedia complex highlights NC State's football tradition with photos, artifacts and exhibits. Fans can watch video highlights in the Woolard Theater and younger Wolfpackers can have fun in the Junior Wolfpack Zone.

From the lobby, double doors open into the massive Gunter Family strength training facility, which runs the entire length of the building and covers 15,000 square-feet. The facility houses huge area for stretching, a track, a juice bar and over 15 tons of weights.

The third floor of the Murphy Center houses a large dining room and a players' lounge that overlooks Wayne Day Family Field. The lounge contains couches, pool tables, ping-pong tables, wide-screen TVs and video games for the Wolfpack players to enjoy during breaks.

A large team meeting room and meeting rooms for each position are also on the third floor. Each room is equipped with the latest video playback equipment for reviewing film and breaking down an athlete's performance. That level also houses offices for the Wolfpack's academic advisors, as well as a large study room with computers in the Kirkland Academic Suite.

On the fourth floor, the coaches' offices, a large staff conference room, offensive and defensive meeting rooms, a television studio and the video production offices can be found.

The heartbeat of the Murphy Center is on the bottom floor. The locker room, which stretches the length of the building on one side of the hall, was renovated in the summer of 2016. It boasts 121 custom wood lockers, bathrooms, showers, a Sonos stereo system and two large screen Smart TVs with eight additional monitors. The other side of the hall is home to the equipment room and the state-of-the-art sports medicine facility, which covers 6,000 square feet and includes an aquatics area with three pools.

The building is named for Wendell H. Murphy, a lifelong supporter of both athletic and academic initiatives at NC State and a member of the NC State Athletics Hall of Fame. A member of the NC State Board of Trustees, Murphy was awarded the prestigious Watauga Medal in 1999, the school's highest award given for outstanding and distinguished service.

ALBRIGHT SPORTS MEDICINE CENTER

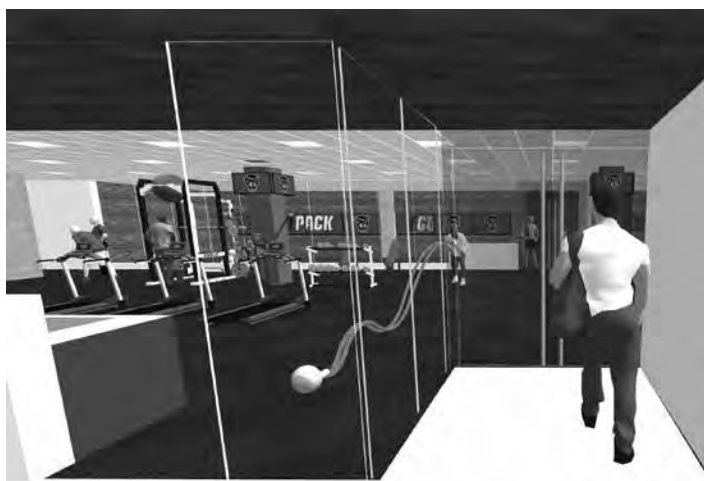

In July, the Wolfpack's totally redesigned sports medicine facility - the Albright Sports Medicine Center - opened for use by the Pack. The 6,000 square-foot area, located across from the locker room on the first floor of the Murphy Center, features state-of-the-art features and equipment to ensure the health, safety and well being of the football team.

Among the new equipment in the facility is an anti-gravity treadmill, which allows for longer, safer and more sustained body movement.

Another addition is a Vision Therapy area, which helps with visual clarity, depth perception, eye-body coordination, hand-eye coordination, ocular motility (eye tracking), peripheral vision (side vision), visual reaction time and visual concentration.

In addition to all new equipment throughout the facility, The hydrotherapy area has been completely renovated, exam rooms have been updated and expanded and a steam room has been added.

The facility is named in honor of Andy and Jane Albright, proud supporters of both athletic and academic initiatives at NC State. Andy, a 1986 graduate, is a member of the NC State Entrepreneurship Initiative's advisory board and is the co-founder, president and CEO of National Agents Alliance (aka The Alliance). The Albrights are also the namesake of the Albright Entrepreneurs Village, the first named living and learning village at the university. Andy was named the Man of the Year by the Old North State Council of Boy Scouts of America in 2018.

NC STATE ATHLETICS BROADCAST CENTER

Located at the main entrance of the Wendell H. Murphy Football Center at Carter-Finley Stadium, the new NC State Athletics Broadcast and Production Center is a state-of-the-art facility where the NC State Athletics Broadcast and Video staff will tell the stories, promote the brand and create the narrative of NC State Athletics. The facility features working broadcast studio space, multiple modern production control rooms, a green screen studio and editing / production suites

The facility contains a main studio and control rooms for the production of game day video and year-round programming that meet the content creation and live game production requirements of the ACC Network, which will launch in August of 2019. Live broadcast operations will be observable by students, faculty, staff and fans, creating a hub of activity at the studio year-round, as NC State's 23 varsity teams are featured on programming that will be seen digitally and via the ACC Network.

It serves as the home for production and on-set filming of NC State Athletics television and internet broadcasts and programming, as well as the game day operations center for in-venue display board productions for all NC State Athletics venues. The control room is the hub for NC State athletics over the airwaves, with fiber optic connections coming in from every arena and stadium on campus.

The project includes a vanity station for preparation/makeup space for talent and studio guests, housed adjacent to studio space.

The 20-year partnership between ESPN and the ACC will provide fans unprecedented access to live events via a comprehensive, multi-platform network. It also provides for the extension of the conference's existing rights agreement with ESPN to 2036. ESPN is the ACC's exclusive worldwide rights holder.

Fans can access more than 600 exclusive live events from across the conference via a digital live-events channel 'ACC Network Extra', immediately available to users who have access to ESPN3 via WatchESPN and the ESPN app, with that number growing each year. More than 1,300 ACC events will be distributed across the platforms in 2019 when the linear network launches.

PRACTICE & TRAINING FACILITIES

CLOSE-KING INDOOR PRACTICE FACILITY

When it opened in the summer of 2015, the Close-King Indoor Practice Facility added the finishing touch to NC State's impressive array of football facilities. Now a year-round hub for practice and training, the Close-King ensures that at any time of the day or night and in any weather, the Wolfpack can keep grinding.

The state-of-the-art facility boasts a full, 120-yard football field with a 65' roof height sufficient for punts and suspended goalposts. It also contains additional training and conditioning space beyond both end zones and four spring lanes down the full length of the field.

Other features include in-ground and above-ground pads for long jump, triple jump, high jump and other track events, end zone and 50-yardline viewing platforms, clerestory windows and glass roll-up doors to allow natural light and cool breezes. A sound system that can be heard from blocks away and support areas for equipment, strength and conditioning and sports medicine are also amenities that the building offers.

The privately-funded $14 million building is named in honor of NC State alums Derick S. Close ('82) and James S. King ('62), who donated the lead gifts for the project. Close and King serve on the Wolfpack Club Board of Directors, while King is a past president of that board. Close previously served as the chairman of the Goalline Drive Campaign that raised funds for the Murphy Center and the South End Zone project. King served on the Construction Oversight Committee that helped facilitate the construction of the Murphy Center, Vaughn Towers and the North End Zone addition.

WOLFPACK FOOTBALL PRACTICE COMPLEX

The Wolfpack Football Practice Complex covers seven acres and boasts three full fields, a training room, restrooms and a video/coaching tower.

The two 400 x400 419 Bermuda grass fields alternate directions to ensure that practice is always held on new grass. The third Fieldturf field is used for practicing on synthetic turf for game prep or for bad weather days. All practice and drills areas are lighted by 75 ft candles, while the facility also contains a state-of-the-art sound system and 22 camera locations for coaches video.

WOLFPACK TURF

Former Wolfpack football player and master sculptor Dick Idol created the "Wolfpack Turf" monument, which rises from the plaza in front of the Murphy Center. The statue is made up of six wolves, each two-times life size, standing on a 21-foot stone mountain.

Each wolf on the sculpture has a name which represents one of the characteristics of a wolf and of a Wolfpack football player: Confidence, Passion, Spirit, Courage, Pride and Strength.
